Student Council adopts
NSA Constitution; Acts
On Bigotry in Election

Student Council has adopted the constitution of the National Student Association. Action was also taken to surround condemning religious intolerance in the coming presidential elections as well as a discussion of compulsory ROTC.

After several weeks of petition the NSA for membership examination Council will now receive the constitution. The NSA constitution was passed by a unanimous vote, the bylaws of the group as well as policy statements and the constitution of dues were also recognized by Council.

Stand On ROTC
SGC has decided to take a positive stand on compulsory ROTC. John Lowe was appointed chairman of a committee which will prepare resolutions for debate at tonight’s next session. Whether Council passes this resolution in its current form will be decided at the next meeting.

Bigot Condemned
The Council also passed a resolution condemning bigotry in all its forms. A resolution was forwarded to SG by George Washington University, from which it was formulated. The resolution states that the young man is an important role for all races and people.

Morning prayer services and religious seminars during the week. These services and seminars are intended to be a band and refreshments. An overnight retreat to the Blue Mountains near Boulder, will be held Saturday night.

Bucknell Tops Colgate 12-8; Delaware Wins

In a weekend marred by stormy weather, most of the MAC stepped out of the conference to take on strong opposition. In the big game, Bucknell came out victorious over Colgate, 12-8.

DePaul's Bobby Pla and a strong Bucknell attack that outmaneuvered Colgate, Bucknell scored a 12-5 win over the Red Raiders. These two quarterbacks Paul Turbon was unable to pass often due to the Bucknell defense. The Bunnies turned home halfback Dick Molerger and Ray Gasper for two touchdowns. Then they held on grimly while Bobby quarterbacks Dave Keating ran 64 yards for one touchdown and 14 yards for the other only to have it called back.

What would you do as an engineer at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft?

Regardless of your specialty, you would work in a favorable engineering atmosphere.

But in 1915, when Pratt & Whitney Aircraft was designing and developing the first of its family of history-making powerplants, an attitude was born—a recognition that engineering excellence was the key to success.

That attitude, that recognition of the prime importance of technical superiority is still predominant at P&W today.

The field, of course, is broader now, the challenges greater. No longer are the company's requirements confined to development of all forms of flight propulsion systems for the aerospace medium—air breathing, rocket, gas turbine engines.

That attitude, that recognition of the prime importance of engineering excellence was the key to success.

There was no question about who would be named the Most Outstanding Player after the Leopards took the field against the Scarlet Knights last Saturday.

As the Leopards approached the Rutgers goal, Coach McConville felt the field goal was in order. This season has seen the importance of the point advantage in several games. But this was not one of them.

WILL DOLESCHAL DO IT AGAIN? . . . Third time the answer was no. As the Leopards approached the Rutgers goal, Coach McConville felt the field goal was in order. This season has seen the importance of the point advantage in several games. But this was not one of them.

Freshman ball handlers were at their peak last Friday. In a rough game, probably the toughest of the season, the Scarlet Knights scored a 36-16 decision to a powerful Penn team.

Wager's assumption that a "good" house is necessary to cause a normally Democratic area to go Republican.

"Wager, this difference is not insignificant," I agree. Must I now lead you by the hand to the quotation, "We take Jews. — We prefer them where of any race."

"Well, "gentlemen," for those interested in Jewishism, a Jewish boy sets apart from Gentiles. His ideas, if they seem good, "That's very white of him," we will hear, "Let's take him."

"Gentlemen," for those interested in education, a Jewish boy sets apart from the masses. No special amalgamation and loss of individuality.

"Demeaning to the character of a religious Jew seem to be a Christian gentleman."

"Our fraternity follows a policy of no hazing at all. We feel that a college student is mature enough to become a fraternity member without physical or mental pressure. Without hazing, there will be a better pledge-brother relationship during the pledge training program.

"For the purpose of declining on the type of pledge training which we have during the coming semester. Positive steps have been taken toward the elimination of hazing in the past few years. However, we have not yet decided what our policy on pledge training will be.

"Fraternity has a long way in the elimination of hazing practices, and a lot of traditional hazing practices have been eliminated, but still exist in reputation only."

Larry Stroud, Phi Delta Theta — "I would like to see all the possible injuries aspects of hazing eliminated, and those cases which have proven to be counterproductive."

David Levent, secretary, Phi Kappa Tau — "Our house recently signed a declaration pledging full support of our national fraternity's stand on the elimination of all hazing activities."

Stephan Flynn, Phi Kappa Psi — "The national fraternity has always been fully anti-hazing. We are against practices such as paddling which are physically, morally, and emotionally harmful to a pledge. As Phi Psi, hazing practices have declined rapidly in past years, and will be progressively non-existent from now on."

James Hartl, Phi Theta — "There is nothing in our pledge training which is in any way, shape or form, related to hazing or anything of that nature. We concentrate on teaching a pledge the history of our fraternity, and making him a gentleman and a better person."
