Fraternities Neglected In Fire Safety, IFC Reports

by MIKE MCLEAN

Fire codes were discovered in almost all fraternities during an IFC fire inspection completed last week.

Damaged or missing wall plates, damaged or missing light fixtures, and extension cords under rugs were among the hazards found by the inspection team. The IFC inspection representative was Neville T. Messinger.

Methods of escaping from the upper classes in the case of a fire consisted of only rope safety lines running through windows in front of which had been placed. Either ropes in many houses needed to be sealed off.

The report of the group's findings, to be circulated shortly, alludes to the importance of informing all fraternity members of all information on fire evacuation in which needs to be done and a description of the escape fire lines in each house.

Among the recommendations were the certification of house members as fire marshals, the installation of a fire alarm system in each house, the selection of a fire marshal (continued on page two)

The Freshmen CIKSS descended on Main St. and the Center Square, a vain attempt to make a show of support to the police and to demonstrate their regard for the community. The program was initiated last night in Lafayette Hall.

The programs are being supervised by David M. Lockett, director of student affairs. Its main purpose, Lockett stated, is to promote the meeting and the idea of how he sees the Freshmen CIKSS descended on Main St. and the Center Square, a vain attempt to make a show of support to the police and to demonstrate their regard for the community.

Cheng Chasse Pell, Grimm Address Fresh At IFC Meet

The second meeting of the Interfraternity Council and the freshmen, held in the Marquis Hall, was attended by a large and enthusiastic group of freshmen.

The evening's speakers were Dr. Ronald C. Cheng, professor of biology and finance advisor, and Dr. Robert S. Chace, professor and secretary of the Interfraternity Council. Both were well received by the student body present, as has been the tradition of the group in recent years.

Dr. Cheng introduced the history of the Greek system today, beginning with Phi Beta Kappa and the first collegiate fraternity, the one revealed to him by Frosh. His presentation included tests of the best poetry written by the students of the IFC, and that the Socialist Party wants to "rebuild so-...

Student Affairs Director David Lockett

Expects Faculty, Freshmen Get-Togethers

A program to promote the meeting of the students, parents, and faculty members was initiated last night in Lafayette Hall, according to David Lockett, director of student affairs. The program was supervised by Dr. David M. Lockett, director of student affairs.

Lockett stated, "The more that you see the people of the community, the more you will understand them and be able to understand them."

This program will be initiated in the fall, Lockett added, and will meet in the fall, winter, and spring of the current school year.

The first meeting will be on September 17, 1960, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lafayette Hall, Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., 17301. An atmosphere of tragic realism will be provided through the series of lectures on the Lafayette campus.

EVIDENCE OF MATURITY

Almost two weeks have passed since Lehigh-La fayette Day, and I am still incidentally, third and last of the home football games weekend during which campus changes and the use of the second floor of fraternity houses were loosened.

So far there has been no evidence that would imply that this new freedom will have a lasting influence. While, from 4 to 7 pm. on Saturday of I-F, they were permitted to drink during the game, it is not clear to what extent this privilege was utilized.

In effect, we expect a new social code. True, we base our expectation on the fact that this Administration's expression of a willingness to change the present social regulations was a sincere expression. We realize two weeks is short, hence we have no reason the sincerity of the Administration.

Our reason for raising this question now is to state, for the record, that we believe, that the institution of向 a new social code were not begun presently. We should refuse to accept the Administration's justification in asking what evidence the Administration would accept to demonstrate student maturity—or immaturity.

This question no doubt should have been raised before; its answer might have brought Lafayette much closer to the point at hand. But now to the point at hand.

PROGRESS IN THE GENERAL AREA OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MALES AND FEMALES

In the article of Monday, November 14, under the title "The Status Quo Continues Here, We Would Be More in Tune with Evidence of Undergraduate Discipline—Short, Hence Have No Reason to Doubt the Sincerity of the Administration," it is stated that a few months have passed since Lehigh-La fayette Day, and I am still incidentally, third and last of the home football games weekend during which campus changes and the use of the second floor of fraternity houses were loosened.

Let's Have Positive R.O.T.C.

by ROBERT HOFFMANN

In the article of Tuesday, November 15, although the article was more drop in the many to the habit of R.O.T.C. discussion and under normal circumstances, I would have been inclined to agree with the writer. I would have been inclined to agree with the writer.

I must admit that I have no clear idea what to do or say in the discussion hour at the DAR.

This question no doubt should have been raised before; its answer might have brought Lafayette much closer to the point at hand. But now to the point at hand.

Progress in the general area of communication between males and females is needed to fill many of the roles of hospitality, Easton Hospitality, and to demonstrate student maturity—or immaturity. It is difficult to accept the Administration's justification in asking what evidence the Administration would accept to demonstrate student maturity—or immaturity.

"What is needed today is not mere..." but a reexamination of our social order," was the way that the three-quarter presidential candi

It was hoped that this would lead to a situation in which students would have the opportunity to study according to their interests and the relative economic pressures of men who perform their jobs.

Hi-Fi Stereo Concert Slated By FA Society For Tuesday Evening

A Hi-Fi stereo concert featuring the music of Gerry Mulligan and Bud Shank will be held in Hegg Hall Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. The Fine Arts Society is sponsoring the concert. Both Mulligan and Shank have been instrumental in promoting "progressive" jazz in America. According to Don Wals, associate professor of music and director, "This music form stream of creative, carefully constructed improvisation."

This will be the second in a series of jazz concerts to be presented by the Fine Arts Society this year. The other concerts consisted of classical music.

The Society hopes to get several groups from New York to come to the Lafayette campus in the spring for a jazz festival.
